This workshop will guide you through the musical theory of interpreting songs into Sign Language. You will learn how to analyze a musical composition, break a song down into parts, make sign choices based on musical notes & rhythm, and have an interpretation that flows from the beginning to the end of a song.

Molly Bartholomew is a certified sign language interpreter specializing in Artistic Interpreting with more than 10+ years professional experience. Molly has now turned her focus to educating interpreters and students on her musical theory and the importance of understanding music as a language.
